

UK Stakeholders for Sustainable Development

Unlocking the UK's potential: From ambition to transformation

Annual Conference 2017

ICAEW – London

1 March 2017

Moorgate Place

The first UK Stakeholders for Sustainable Development Conference in April 2016 attracted more than 100 delegates from across the business, civil society, public and academic communities. We return again in 2017 with a dynamic and engaging programme that brings together leaders from a spectrum of organisations to explore, analyse and collaborate for action on the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) in the UK

Unlocking the UK's Potential: From ambition to transformation

Evening Reception, 29 February 2017

An intimate evening of networking and partnership building for specially invited guests

Conference, 1 March 2017

A one-day conference for representatives from across the UK. Sessions and topics will explore ways to translate the ambition of 17 Goals and 169 Targets into transformational action through keynotes, panels and workshops.

Who will be there?

The second UKSSD Conference will attract a wide and diverse range of delegates from across the UK thanks to the varied programme with something that applies to everyone. The 2016 Conference attracted over 100 delegates.

40% of delegates were from medium or large businesses

34% of delegates were
C-level or Director level

10% of delegates
were from National or Devolved governments

Sponsorship Opportunities

The UKSSD Annual Conference is the only event of its nature in the UK, attracting c.300 delegates from organisations who are committed to sustainable development. Delegates are from a variety of disciplines and undertake a variety of roles. UKSSD draws on its 35 partner and 250 supporter organisations to bring together expertise and leadership from across the UK. For 2017 we have a larger venue, a more ambitious programme and higher profile speakers.

UKSSD's mission is to inspire and support all stakeholders to transform the UK into a sustainable society.

We do this by:

- Generating new partnerships and innovative solutions for sustainable development through convening and coordinating stakeholders from all sectors; and
- Providing thought leadership on the benefits the UK will experience as a result of action for sustainable development and the implementation of the Sustainable Development Goals.

UKSSD is truly multi-stakeholder, free to join and requires no commitment.
